Lorrie Luellig, founding member and practice leader of Ryley Carlock & Applewhite

Lorrie has advised clients, from Fortune 100 to small privately held companies, on the creation and implementation of global Information Governance programs, legal and regulatory compliance, litigation holds, privacy and security issues, and other business practices related to the organization, protection and disposition of information. She is a frequent speaker on the topic of navigating complex legal retention obligations, determining business value of information, and creating a dialog across company stakeholders for successful implementation of corporate retention policy and procedure on a global scale.

Lorrie has also provided expert testimony relating to the disposition of records in a multimillion-dollar product liability dispute, Estate of Metcalf, et. al., v. Yamaha, et. al. Case No. GIC842234 In the Superior Court of the State of California In and For the County of San Diego (2008). Lorrie received her LL.M. from Harvard Law School in Cambridge, Massachusetts.