The Rules for determining Arizona Residency for purposes of admission and tuition to Arizona’s public universities are set by the Arizona Board of Regents and interpreted, on Arizona State University’s campus, by the Residency Classification Office. The Residency Office gives the College of Law limited ability to make an initial residency determination for applicants to the law school. In many cases if the information below is incomplete, we will be unable to grant residency, and residency will have to be further pursued through the Residency Classification Office. To be a resident of Arizona, a petitioner must show

- 12 months of physical presence (You must be at least 18 at the beginning of the domicile year.) To be eligible for classification as a resident for tuition purposes, you must provide clear and convincing evidence of continuous physical presence in the state of Arizona for the 12 months which precede the semester in question. The 12 month period is referred to as a domicile year.
and
- Intent to establish a domicile Your evidence of intent to be a resident of this state is demonstrated by the absence of ties of your former state of residence. Actions used to indicate intent must be accomplished at the beginning of and maintained throughout the domicile year. If implementation of these steps is delayed, the start of your one year domicile period will be delayed. All requirements must be demonstrated for one full year before resident status may be granted. Samples of indicia of intent and additional information about residency can be found at <http://www.asu.edu/registrar/residency/>.

Are you a Resident of Arizona? Yes (Complete all information in the section below.) No (Skip the section below, and go to Page 3.)

If you do not complete the information in the section below, you will be classified as a non-resident for admission and tuition purposes to ASU.

Because of the high ethical standards this law school demands, the failure to disclose an act or event such as the ones described below is often more significant, and leads to more serious consequences, than the act or event itself. Failure to provide truthful answers, or failure to inform the Admissions Office of any changes to your answers, may result in revocation of admission or disciplinary action by the College of Law. An affirmative answer to any or all of questions 1 through 4 does not necessarily preclude or even prejudice admission to the Sandra Day O'Connor College of Law at Arizona State University, but applicants are advised to be truthful and forthcoming with their responses.

1. Have you been subject to sanction or discipline by any academic institution for academic dishonesty, plagiarism, cheating or any form of behavioral misconduct? Yes No
2. Have you ever been charged with, convicted of, pled guilty or pled no contest to a crime other than a minor traffic violation? A traffic violation which includes the use of drugs or alcohol is not considered a minor violation. Yes No
3. Are any actions arising from allegations of academic dishonesty, plagiarism, cheating or any form of behavioral misconduct or criminal charges other than a minor traffic violation (as described in question 2) currently pending against you? Yes No
4. Have you ever received a less than honorable discharge from any branch of the armed forces? Yes No
5. Have you previously been registered in any law school? Yes No
6. Have you been subject to sanction or discipline by any academic institution for insufficient academic performance? Yes No

If your answer to any of the above questions is "yes," you must include a separate statement providing a complete description of your actions and full details of the charges and sanctions against you. For example, to be complete, the description must include a description of all charges merged in any guilty or no contest plea. You also must include the date(s) of the matter(s), the status or final disposition of the charge(s) including your current status with the disciplinary or criminal authorities (for example, the status of your parole), and the name and address of the authority in possession of these records.

MANDATORY ATTACHMENTS:

A. Personal Statement

Academic background and strength, though important, are not the only criteria evaluated in the application process. For this reason, a personal statement, written by you and limited to 1250 words on double-spaced, typed pages, is a required part of the application. In this statement we seek information about your distinctive qualities, talents, successes, achievements, interests, and life experiences as well as an explanation of your professional aspirations as they relate to the MLS program.

B. Résumé

Attach a descriptive resume of no more than 3 typed pages. Please include details about your educational background, honor societies, scholarships, work history, military service, extracurricular activities, public/community service, honors and awards, publications, and any other significant achievements and involvements. As to work history, include a complete and chronological list of positions (including organization name, phone number, dates of employment, and hours worked).

C. Fee

This application must be accompanied by a non-refundable $50.00 payment to Arizona State University.

D. Letters of Recommendation

Two letters of recommendation are required by the College of Law. The most helpful recommendations usually are those that address the candidate's strength of character, academic background, analytical abilities, and communication skills.

E. Academic Transcripts

Official transcripts from all post-secondary institutions of higher education that you attended must be submitted to the College of Law. Applicants who have received undergraduate or graduate credit from foreign institutions should contact the Office of Admissions and Financial Aid for further instructions at (480) 965-1474.

OPTIONAL ATTACHMENTS:

Graduate School Entrance Exams

(e.g. LSAT, GRE, GMAT, etc) are not required. Nevertheless, applicants who have taken a Graduate School Entrance Exam are invited to report their scores.

Arizona State University vigorously pursues affirmative action and equal opportunity in its employment, activities, and programs.

All applicants must sign and date the following declaration:

I hereby certify that all the information that I have submitted in this application and in support of my candidacy for admission to the Sandra Day O'Connor College of Law at Arizona State University is complete and true and has been prepared by me. In addition, I agree to notify the College of Law promptly of any events covered in questions 1-6 on Page 3 of this application should they occur at any time during the application and admission process prior to matriculation. I understand that knowingly, recklessly or negligently providing false, incomplete or misleading information or failing to notify the College of Law of new information is grounds for denial of admission. In addition, if the College of Law discovers after an offer of admission has been made that I knowingly, recklessly, or negligently provided false, incomplete or misleading information or that I failed to notify the College of Law of new information, the College of Law can withdraw the offer of admission or can dismiss me from the College.

Further, by signing below I agree to notify the Sandra Day O'Connor College of Law Dean's Office of any future events covered in questions 1-4 on Page 4 of this application should they occur at any time during my matriculation at the College of Law.
